

StoreNext Connected Services

The independent grocer is no longer alone

ConnectedServices™ gives independents and small chains advanced applications using the Web to eliminate most of the costs

With StoreNext, independent grocers and regional chains can now compete with the largest chains. In the past, big chains enjoyed a competitive technological advantage because their size gave them greater buying power and technical resources. But by acting as the your virtual IT shop, StoreNext ConnectedServices has eliminated that size advantage.

It's all in the wire! ConnectedServices removes the need for independents to purchase and manage their applications in-house. External acquisition and start-up costs virtually disappear. By avoiding these expenses up front and subscribing to ConnectedServices at low periodic rates, the grocer's ROI increases dramatically – your payback is immediate.

StoreNext is the only company that can offer independents this level of Web-based capability. Applications are offered as modules, and grocers may subscribe to as few or as many as are needed.

But regardless of the level of activity, StoreNext "connected" applications offer a number of significant advantages. Instant ROI. Lower costs. Anywhere/anytime data.

Leading edge applications. Data consolidation. Greater security. Easiest possible installation. No maintenance or upgrade costs or hassles.

And much more. With ConnectedServices, StoreNext has leveled the technology playing field between the largest grocery chains and the independent grocer. Independents will now have the most important new – and future – IT applications at their immediate disposal, and your Dealer has powerful new tools to maintain your stores at a lower cost – and with far greater responsiveness and satisfaction.

In today's changing grocery market, stores that keep their costs low while driving up their profitability by attracting and retaining shoppers from the competition will be the ones that succeed and thrive. That's why as an independent, your next step should be to connect with StoreNext.

So whether it's Connected Analysis and Reporting, CIH's complete item hosting, Connected DSD or Connected ShrinkTrax® loss prevention, your StoreNext Dealer can get you hooked up in almost no time. Call them today.
